Loyola House is a renewal and training centre whose focus derives from Ignatian Spirituality. Our team ministry expresses itself both individually and corporately. Through Ignatian discernment we seek to empower both individuals and groups within the context of their own experience by attentiveness to: their growth, ability to evaluate the signs of the times, and leadership potential.

In this way, we identify ourselves with Christ and prove our longing for the reign of God by fostering unity, mutuality and inclusiveness of all people.

Loyola House is located one km. north of Guelph, Ontario on over 600 acres of beautiful farmland, with rolling hills, woods and wetlands – all of it accessible to those who take part in our programs.

Directed Retreats

As part of a welcome to Loyola House we would like to share with you a description of a directed retreat. Like most retreats, the environment will be one of prayerfulness and silence; like all retreats the focus is upon the presence and activity of God.

In a directed retreat a director is assigned to each retreatant. In meeting the director each day the retreatant is aided in:

- 1) noticing the reality of God's presence and activity;
- 2) coming to trust what has been noticed;
- 3) responding to this presence and activity.

Prayerful reflection with sacred Scripture in an environment of complete silence is the usual setting for this process. There is no pre-set pattern for a directed retreat. The director and the retreatant try to be sensitive and responsive to where the retreatant is in his or her journey with God.

The director's role is to support the retreatant in the movements of his or her journey as they emerge in the prayer experience of the retreatant. God's involvement with us is subtle and delicate, hence the environment of prayerful silence throughout the experience. As you prepare to come for your retreat, we invite you to be open and generous in your desire to spend these days with the Lord.

Retreatants often find it helpful to bring items with them that help them to be centered, relaxed and still. For one person it might be a sketch pad; for another needlepoint; for another, cross-country skis or a kite might be a good companion. Some may wish to bring an iPod with their favourite music for relaxation. The criterion for anything of this sort should be "whatever helps you to relax and be peaceful before the Lord."

Loyola House is known for providing a simple and comfortable environment for your retreat. We do not attempt to provide the luxuries and conveniences of a hotel or spa. This allows us to ensure that our program fees are affordable to a wide range of people. It also fits with our desire to offer you an environment which helps you to focus on your relationship with God.
