

The Full Spiritual Exercises at Loyola House

Since 1969, Loyola House has been promoting the personally-directed Ignatian retreat. All of our programs are rooted in the methods of Ignatius and the dynamics of his Exercises. While there are alternative ways of experiencing the Spiritual Exercises, Loyola House is famous for offering them in a 40-day format. This fits well with Ignatius' suggestions for those women and men who are able to disengage themselves by withdrawing "from all friends and acquaintances, and from all earthly concerns." (SpExx [20]).

The full Spiritual Exercises Experience

includes the 30 days that comprise the four "weeks" recommended by Ignatius. We start with five "disposition" days during which we prepare participants to enter into the Exercises themselves. These days include input on the theological themes and methods of prayer. The last five days are spent in "appropriation". These days offer a workshop atmosphere in which the participants give time to reflection and discussion that help them understand and appropriate the experience of the 30 days of prayer.

Loyola House enjoys a reputation for keeping our tradition of being a solidly grounded Centre, faithful to the text of St. Ignatius - reinterpreting it in the context of today's world.

The Spiritual Exercises have been described as a school of prayer, a means of discernment, a means for growing in relationship with Christ. The text of the Spiritual Exercises is considered a unique spiritual classic. This treatise on prayer offers a method of prayer that allows the "retreatant" to follow Jesus and seek God's will in any circumstances, from the most mundane activity to the most moving experiences. For many it is an inner "Camino" pilgrimage with Christ.

Ignatius designed the Spiritual Exercises to assist a person to come to spiritual freedom and make a good decision in congruence with the Holy Spirit's inspiration. As Ignatius says, they are "Spiritual Exercises which have as their purpose the conquest of self and the regulation of one's life in such a way that no decision is made under the influence of any inordinate attachment." (SpExx [21])
