

Thankfulness is life to our spirits and quiet to our busy hearts. - Nicole T. Walters

Our gratitude overflows to each and every one of you – for your prayers, for your friendship and for your donations. This year’s Lent mailing follows only a few weeks after our Advent appeal; yet, even during a challenging economy, so many of you have given generously.

The staff who are providing 24/7 support to the residents in the Loyola House temporary housing tell us they are witnessing “small miracles.” Residents, previously housed in local hotels, now receive consistent and integrated care that is promoting better health and mental well-being outcomes.

The Universal Apostolic Preferences, which unite Jesuits worldwide in our mission, calls on us to “accompany young people in the creation of a hope-filled future” and “to collaborate in the care of our Common Home.” This year Ignatius Farm celebrates 20 years of ecological, regenerative agriculture. The Farm is building on the successful 2020 pilot of a “New Farmer Training Program” with plans to dig a well that make more irrigable land available for start-up small plot enterprises and community gardeners. Can you help Ignatius Farm to “Get the Water Flowing?”

Why not send a beautiful Easter greeting to friends or family members?

Ignatius Jesuit Centre is a registered charity and can accept donations of stocks, bonds or mutual fund units through CanadaHelps. Considering a legacy gift and have some questions? Email development@ignatiushelph.ca or phone 519-824-1250 Ext 257 to speak with Vanessa or Leanne.

In recognition of the critical contributions of nonprofits and charities to our community life, Loyola House staff participated in this year’s Coldest Night of the Year Walkathon. Since 2011 CNOY has helped 149 communities across Canada raise funds for local charities serving people experiencing homelessness, hurt, and hunger. The funds raised in Guelph support Hope House.

IJC VOLUNTEERS RECEIVE ONTARIO VOLUNTEER SERVICE AWARDS

Six wonderful, dedicated IJC volunteers received 2020 Ontario Volunteer Service Awards. The ceremony took place virtually on February 24.

Thanks and congratulations to our volunteers!

Our Garden plots purchasing are already sold out at our traditional full capacity! Pre-COVID that happened around the first of May...

We are currently waiting on grant details so that we know how much we can increase the number of annual plots we will have available, so online inventory is limited. If you are counting on gardening this summer at Ignatius, now is the time to register.

If you can't register online, the inventory is used up, email farmregistration@ignatiusguelph.ca and ask to be put on a waiting list. Let us know the size of plot your are interested in, your name, and phone number.

Have questions? Just email farmregistration@ignatiusguelph.ca

Poetry, stories, and info to reflect on

POLLINATOR HIBERNATION

Spring is just around the corner. The sunshine, the melting snow, increased bird activity and the first site of new growth in the gardens is arriving. We're already dreaming up our garden plans for the year and some of us are already planning on heading out in the next couple of weeks to begin our annual spring garden clean up.

But are our native pollinators ready to emerge from their cozy dwellings to brave the chilly March air?

They've either spent the winter in the hollow stems of perennials, under a blanket of leaves or in the crevices of tall grass. These sheltering techniques help insects survive our frigid winters. When the temperatures in the winter start to drop, insects go into dormancy and only begin to 'wake up' when temperatures consistently remain above 10°C.

So before you eagerly head out the door with rake in hand, consider the bees, butterflies, flies, and beetles that will be doing the work to pollinate your flowering plants.

The County of Wellington purchased a beautiful cedar gazebo for the residents of the Loyola House Supportive Temporary Housing Pilot. It instantly became a very popular destination landmark.

CEDAR GAZEBO

Greg Kennedy SJ

This cedar gazebo
is a smoke stack
Shinto shrine
boardroom devoid
of table and ties

at once it's become the navel of the world
or its heart
or that hidden cerebral corner
where mind and matter cross who would have ever dreamed that a little forest

reframed into the slightest shelter could hold with such tenderness
so many souls sparkling shyly?

it's a holy mountain
to which all the nations stream
a floor, a roof, four thick beams straight up in between
a Zion,
the refuge of all peoples.

A Passionate Jesus in Holy Week

Praying the Liturgy of Christ's Passion

Q&A WITH ERIC JENSEN, SJ, AUTHOR OF A PASSIONATE JESUS IN HOLY WEEK

What prompted you to write this booklet?

I have always disliked the image of a passive Jesus, and in the Passion Narrative, of course, Jesus suffers and is passive. But how did this come about? Wha...
